Dear Parents,

Can you imagine that summertime is here again? We have enjoyed working with your students! We have seen such growth this year and desire that each child continues from strength to strength.

To this end, we have some summer resource material and a grade-appropriate reading list available. A minimum of three books should be read over the summer.

Requirements:

Entering 6th grade, complete two (2) book projects over the summer, one of which should be a book report and the other in the form of a creative project.

(The rubric for all projects is included in this packet)

The assignments must be returned on the first day of school in August to be included in the Language Arts grade for the first marking period.

Summer reading is meant to be fun and relaxing! The enclosed reading list offers a selection of enjoyable, age-appropriate literature. We have also attached the format to be used for written reports and suggestions for creative projects. Students who read over the summer return to school ready to continue their learning with little or no learning loss. The important thing is that students read, read, read!!!

Respectfully,

Ms. Afua

Summer Reading List for Students - Entering Grade 6th

Students entering Grade 6 must read the 2 books listed below. Use the book report format found on the next page to complete one book report. Please choose one Book to do a creative book report format of your choice in the booklet. Sixth grade students will present the book reports in class.
